E. L. Bashford. R.N.

The Library of the Wellcome Institute for the History of Medicine

Cupp. 60/92/C

GRAHAM, James

Collection of cuttings
[1780-1827]

Accession Number
73143

Press Mark

Suppl/C/GRA

GRAHAM J

WELLCOME
LIBRARY
INSTITUTE

TEMPLE of HEALTH, PALL-MALL.

AT the earneſt and repeated Requeſt of a great number of foreigners of diſtinction, and of the firſt Perſons of faſhion of Great Britain and Ireland, Dr. Graham begs leave to acquaint the Nobility and Gentry of both ſexes, that This preſent Evening, and every Evening this week, Sunday excepted, the Temple will be opened for their reception, as a PROMENADE ONLY. The whole will be moſt ſuperbly illuminated with wax, and the Medico Electrical Apparatus, which is infinitely larger and more magnificent than any other that ever was erected in the world, will be diſplayed in all the celeſtial brilliancy of the electrical fire. It is needleſs to ſay any thing with reſpect to the pre-eminence which theſe apartments have, in point of richneſs, elegance, and brilliancy, over every other ſuite of public rooms in Europe, as their ſuperiority is unanimouſly allowed by upwards of twenty thouſand perſons of taſte and faſhion, who have already viewed them, the greateſt number of whom have viſited the principal Courts in Europe, and have given a decided opinion in favor of the Temple of Health.

The doors will be opened preciſely at eight o'clock. Admittance only Half-a-Crown.

N. B. On account of the new additions and decorations which are now compleated, the Temple has been ſhut up from all public inſpection for upwards of three months; and as it was found to interfere too much with Dr. Graham's practice as a phyſician, it will be no more exhibited in the day time. The Doctor gives his advice as uſual in all thoſe deep rooted and obſtinate diſeaſes which have reſiſted the ordinary means, or that is called the regular practice, every morning from ſeven till eleven o'clock to trades-people, and to all others who apply within thoſe hours, Gratis; and he is at home to be conſulted by the Nobility and Gentry, daily, from eleven till three in the afternoon.

THE TEMPLE of HYMEN, in Pall-mall, is now opened for public inſpection, every day, from Ten in the morning till Eight at night.

Admittance only 2s. 6d.

Dr. GRAHAM deſires moſt reſpectfully to aſſure the Nobility and Gentry, eſpecially the Ladies, that every thing is conducted at the Temple of Hymen with that decency and decorum which cannot fail effectually to ſilence envious, ignorant, or malevolent tongues.

Doctor Graham.—Edinburgh, very much to its credit, has ſet her face very ſtrenuouſly againſt this gentleman. However, the city of Norwich had the merit of firſt moving the ſuppreſſion of the nuiſance.

TEMPLE of HEALTH and HYMEN, PALL MALL, near the King's Palace.

IF there be one human being, rich or poor, male, female, or of the doubtful gender, in or near this great metropolis of the world, who has not had the good fortune, and the happineſs of hearing the celebrated Lecture, and of ſeeing the grand Celeſtial State Bed, the magnificent Electrical Apparatus, and the ſupremely brilliant and Unique Decorations of this magical edifice—of this inchanting Elyſian Palace! where wit and mirth, love and beauty—all that can delight the ſoul, and all that can raviſh the ſenſes, will hold their court, THIS, and EVERY EVENING this Week in chaſte and joyous aſſemblage! let them now come forth, or for ever afterwards let them blame themſelves, and bewail their irremediable misfortune.

In conſequence of the promiſes which Doctor GRAHAM and his ſervants were under the neceſſity of making to the very great multitude of Ladies and Gentlemen, who came to the door of the Temple for many Evenings paſt; but who could not poſſibly be admitted, on account of from Eight to Sixteen Hundred Ladies and Gentlemen being in the Great Apollo Chamber at the Lecture, and walking about the other apartments of this celeſtial paradiſe; he begs leave to inform them, and the Public, that the Temple will be again illuminated with wax, from Seven till Ten o'clock THIS, and every Evening This Week, and he will deliver his too-much celebrated Lecture each night, beginning at Eight o'clock.

Admittance now only One Shilling.

The Ladies are deſired to come very early, as Dr. Graham for ſeveral evenings paſt was very much hurt at ſeeing ſo great a number of reſpectable Ladies who could not be accommodated with ſeats.

A few copies ſtill remaining of Dr. Graham's Private Advice (ſealed up, price One Guinea) to thoſe Ladies and Gentlemen who wiſh to have children, or to become ſnowy pillars of health and beauty, ſtudded, as it were, with roſes, and ſtreaked with celeſtial blue, may now be had at only Half a Guinea; his other curious and eccentric works, containing full deſcriptions of his travels, diſcoveries, improvements, principles, cures, electrical apparatus, &c. formerly 3s. 6d. now 1s. 9d. and Veſtina, the Roſy Goddeſs's warm Lecture! price 2s. 6d.

N. B. The ſale of this curious Lecture has been unprecedenrly rapid: it has run through no leſs than three large editions in one week, and the 4th Edition is now printing.

Dr. Graham propoſes to ſet out next week on his third grand tour through Europe; and he has the felicity of leaving England without owing a ſhilling to any perſon in the world.

N. B. A very large printed pamphlet, containing advices of the higheſt importance to the health, beauty, vigour, happineſs and ſerenity of the human ſpecies, and for the happy prolongation of human life, will be given gratis, to every perſon, as they enter the Great Apollo Chamber of the Temple, which pamphlet alone is worth double the money that is paid for admiſſion.

A NEW LECTURE for LADIES and GENTLEMEN.

THE TEMPLE of HEALTH in Pall-mall, and the magnificent Medico-electrical Apparatus, will be diſplayed THIS EVENING, the 16th inſtant, at ſeven o'clock, in a ſtile of elegance and brilliancy, far ſuperior to moſt royal palaces in the world. The illuminations will be ſupremely glorious; muſic will ſweetly breath forth from the Altar of the Grand Electrical Temple, (the inſtruments and performers, both vocal and inſtrumental, being inviſible) and Dr. Graham will read a Lecture to Ladies and Gentlemen, on health and long life. The Lecture will begin preciſely at half paſt ſeven o'clock. Admittance only Half-a-Crown, Books, containing the moſt valuable precepts for the recovery and preſervation of health, will be delivered gratis.

In this new Lecture, which is on the moſt important of all ſubjects, namely, on health, long life, and happineſs, will be clearly and ſatisfactorily pointed out, the means whereby good conſtitutions will be preſerved; bad or indifferent ones improved; and the human frame, when decayed or worn out with exceſſes and irregularities, renovated and built up into firm health and chearful ſerenity, of body and of mind, to the longeſt poſſible period of human exiſtence!

N. B. Dr. G. finding the bulk of the world ſtill prejudiced againſt the celeſtial bed, and at the ſuppoſed indelicacy of his lecture on the propagation, and improvement of the human ſpecies, he has reſolved no more to mention the celeſtial bed publicly, and no more to lecture on the above, or on any ſimilar ſubject, but every thing will continue to be conducted at all times with the moſt ſcrupulous delicacy, and with the moſt exemplary decorum.

The Medico-electrical apparatus in the Temple of Health, Adelphi, may be inſpected daily as uſual; but every Tueſday, Thurſday, and Saturday evening exactly at eight o'clock, it is exhibited with celeſtial brilliancy by Dr. Graham himſelf, who has the honour of explaining to the Nobility and Gentry the real effects of electricity, air, and magnetiſm, when applied to the human body. This apparatus is univerſally acknowledged to be by far the largeſt, moſt uſeful, and moſt magnificent that now is, or that ever was in the world.

NOW or NEVER!

You must come forward to hear, and to see, and to receive, what never more can be heard or seen in London, or in any other place, so long as the world endures.

GRATIS.—LECTURES, and a Display of the Celestial Brilliancy of the Temple of Health, before its final close and dissolution.

Dr. GRAHAM's FAREWELL LAST BLESSING, and most PATHETIC EXHORTATIONS to the inhabitants of London and Westminster!

AS the Sale of Dr. GRAHAM's Furniture and Apparatus is to be this week, he desires respectfully to inform the Public, that THIS, and EVERY EVENING till the Sale, he will have the honour of delivering Gratis, a LECTURE on certain means, (without medicine) of preserving life, till at least an hundred and fifty years of age. In the course of the Lecture, he will shew mankind, how grosly they have been blinded and imposed upon, and robbed of their health, property, and lives, by the Physicians and Apothecaries.

The rooms are now crowded, and overflow every night more and more; as all London, especially the Ladies, seem determined to see this celebrated place—this enchanting elysium! in full glory, before its final dissolution—as it now exceeds in splendour, elegance, brilliancy and magnificence, every Royal Palace in the world.

Singing by a Young LADY.

†‡† Ladies are requested to come very early. The Lecture begins at Half past Seven o'clock.

Free admission to the whole, to every Lady and Gentleman who purchases, price only One Shilling, The Guardian of Health, Long Life, and Happiness!

N. B. As the Temple has overflowed by several hundred persons, each of the three last nights, those Ladies and Gentlemen who wish earnestly to be admitted, must come, indeed, very early.

☞ Just received from Scotland, elegantly printed in large quarto, price only 6d, the Fourth Edition, of a Sermon on the Resurrection of the Body, and the immortality of the Soul, preached by Dr. Graham, in the Tolbooth prison of Edinburgh, to his fellow prisoners. To be had at the Temple of Health, Pall-mall; at Axtell's Pamphlet Shop, Royal Exchange, and at Rich's Pamphlet Shop, No: 36, Fleet-street. This Sermon is reckoned the most eccentric, the most sublime, and the most useful that ever was preached in the world, and exhibits the truest and most striking picture of Dr. G.'s life, views and real sentiments.

NOW or NEVER!

You must come forward to hear, and to see, and to receive, what never more can be heard or seen in London, or in any other place, so long as the world endures.

GRATIS.—LECTURES, and a Display of the Celestial Brilliancy of the Temple of Health, before its final close and dissolution.

Dr. GRAHAM's FAREWELL LAST BLESSING, and most PATHETIC EXHORTATIONS to the inhabitants of London and Westminster!

AS the Sale of Dr. GRAHAM's Furniture and Apparatus is to be next week, he desires respectfully to inform the Public, that THIS, and EVERY EVENING till the Sale, he will have the honour of delivering Gratis, a LECTURE on certain means, (without medicines) of preserving life, till at least an hundred and fifty years of age. In the course of the Lecture, he will shew mankind, how grossly they have been blinded and imposed upon, and robbed of their health, property, and lives, by the Physicians and Apothecaries.

The rooms are now crowded, and overflow every night more and more; as all London, especially the Ladies, seem determined to see this celebrated place—this enchanting elysium! in full glory, before its final dissolution—as it now exceeds in splendour, elegance, brilliancy and magnificence, every Royal Palace in the world.

Singing by a Young LADY.

†‡† Ladies are requested to come very early. The Lecture begins at Half past Seven o'clock.

Free admission to the whole, to every Lady and Gentleman who purchases, price only One Shilling, The Guardian of Health, Long Life, and Happiness!

N. B. As the Temple has overflowed by several hundred persons, each of the three last nights, those Ladies and Gentlemen who wish earnestly to be admitted, must come, indeed, very early.

TEMPLE of HEALTH, Adelphi.

To their Excellencies the Foreign Ambassadors! to the Nobility, Gentry, and to persons of Learning, and of Taste, THIS and TOMORROW EVENING only, exactly at Eight o'clock, April 13. 1781

THE CELESTIAL BRILLIANCY of the Medico-Electrical Apparatus in all the apartments of the Temple, will be exhibited

By Dr. GRAHAM himself,

Who will have the honour of explaining the true nature and effects of Electricity, Air, Music, and Magnetism, when applied to the Human Body.

In the introductory oration, the whole art of enjoying health and vigour of body and of mind, and of preserving and exalting personal beauty and loveliness; or, in other words, of living with health, honour, and happiness in this world, for at least a hundred years, is pointed out, and warmly inculcated. Previous to the display of the electrical fire, the Doctor will delicately touch upon the CELESTIAL BEDS which are soon to be opened in the Temple of Hymen, in Pall-mall, for the propagation of beings, rational, and far stronger and more beautiful in mental, as well as in bodily endowments, than the present puny, feeble, and nonsensical race of Christians—of probationary immortals, who crawl and fret, and, contrary to every principle of reason, humanity, national policy, and of Christianity, persecute, rob, destroy, and cut one another's throats for nothing at all, on most parts of this terraqueous globe.

This Apparatus, which visibly displays, as it were, the various faculties of the material soul of universal and eternal nature, is acknowledged by all who have seen it, to be by far, the largest, most useful, and most magnificent that now is, or that ever was in the world.

Admittance at night 5s. in the day 2s. 6d.

TEMPLE of HEALTH, PALL-MALL.

AT the earnest and repeated Request of a great number of Foreigners of distinction, and of the first Persons of Fashion of Great Britain and Ireland, Dr. GRAHAM begs leave to acquaint the Nobility and Gentry of both sexes, that THIS present EVENING, and every EVENING this WEEK, the Temple will be opened for their reception as a Promenade only. The whole will be most superbly illuminated with wax, and the Medico-Electrical Apparatus, which is infinitely larger, and more magnificent than any other that ever was erected in the world, will be displayed in all the celestial brilliancy of the Electrical Fire.

It is needless to say any thing with respect to the pre-eminence which these apartments have, in point of richness, elegance, and brilliancy, over every other suite of public rooms in Europe; as their superiority is unanimously allowed by upwards of 30,000 persons of taste and fashion, who have already viewed them, the greatest number of whom have visited the principal courts in Europe, and many have given a decided opinion in favor of the Temple of Health.

The doors will be opened precisely at Eight o'Clock.

Admittance only Half-a-Crown.

N. B. On account of the new additions and decorations, which are now completed, the Temple has been shut up from all public inspection, for upwards of three weeks; and as it was found to interfere too much with Dr. Graham's practice as a Physician, it will be no more exhibited in the day-time. The Doctor gives advice, as usual, in all those deep-rooted and obstinate diseases which have resisted the ordinary means, or what is called the regular practice, every evening, from seven till eleven o'clock, to trades-people, and to all others, who apply within those hours, gratis; and he is at home, to be consulted by the Nobility and Gentry, daily, from eleven in the morning till twelve in the afternoon.

The Doctor has spared no pains or expence whatever to render the Temple not only the richest, but by far more elegant (in its present improved state) than any Royal Palace in the world.

28 June 1782

TEMPLE of HEALTH and HYMEN, PALL MALL,
near the King's Palace.

IF there be one human being, rich or poor, male, female, or of the doubtful gender, in or near this great metropolis of the world, who has not had the good fortune, and the happineſs of hearing the celebrated Lecture, and of ſeeing the grand Celeſtial State Bed, the magnificent Electrical Apparatus, and the ſupremely brilliant and Unique Decorations of this magical edifice—of this inchanting Elyſian Palace! where wit and mirth, love and beauty—all that can delight the ſoul, and all that can raviſh the ſenſes, will hold their court, THIS, and EVERY EVENING this Week in chaſte and joyous aſſemblage! let them now come forth, or for ever afterwards let them blame themſelves, and bewail their irremediable misfortune.

In conſequence of the promiſes which Doctor GRAHAM and his ſervants were under the neceſſity of making to the very great multitude of Ladies and Gentlemen, who came to the door of the Temple for many Evenings paſt; but who could not poſſibly be admitted, on account of from Eight to Sixteen Hundred Ladies and Gentlemen being in the Great Apollo Chamber at the Lecture, and walking about the other apartments of this celeſtial paradiſe; he begs leave to inform them, and the Public, that the Temple will be again illuminated with wax, from Seven till Ten o'clock THIS, and every Evening this Week, and he will deliver his too-much celebrated Lecture, with many new ſtroaks, in which Doctor Graham will unreſervedly pour out his whole ſoul each night, beginning at Eight o'clock.

Admittance now only One Shilling.

The Ladies are deſired to come very early, as Dr. Graham for ſeveral evenings paſt was very much hurt at ſeeing ſo great a number of reſpectable Ladies who could not be accommodated with ſeats.

A few copies ſtill remaining of Dr. Graham's Private Advice (ſealed up, price One Guinea) to thoſe Ladies and Gentlemen who wiſh to have children, or to become ſnowy pillars of health and beauty, ſtudded, as it were, with roſes, and ſtreaked with celeſtial blue, may now be had at only Half a Guinea; his other curious and eccentric works, containing full deſcriptions of his travels, diſcoveries, improvements, principles, cures, electrical apparatus, &c. formerly 3s. 6d. now 1s. 9d. and Veſtina, the Roſy Goddeſs's warm Lecture! price 2s. 6d.

N. B. The ſale of this curious Lecture has been unprecedently rapid: it has run through no leſs than three large editions in one week, and the 4th Edition is now printing.

Dr. Graham propoſes to ſet in a few days on his third grand tour through Europe; and he has the felicity of leaving England without owing a ſhilling to any perſon in the world.

N. B. A very large printed pamphlet, containing advices of the higheſt importance to the health, beauty, vigour, happineſs and ſerenity of the human ſpecies, and for the happy prolongation of human life, will be given gratis, to every perſon, as they enter the Great Apollo Chamber of the Temple, which pamphlet alone is worth double the money that is paid for admiſſion.

TEMPLE of HEALTH and HYMEN, PALL MALL.

A GREATER OVERFLOW THAN EVER!

As upwards of Six Thouſand Ladies and Gentlemen were diſappointed laſt week of hearing the celebrated Lecture,

IN Conſequence of the promiſes which Doctor GRAHAM and his ſervants were under the neceſſity of making to ſo many Thouſand Ladies and Gentlemen, who came to the door for ſeveral Evenings paſt; but who could not poſſibly be admitted, on account of from Eight to Sixteen Hundred Ladies and Gentlemen being in the Great Apollo Chamber at the Lecture, and walking about the other apartments of this magical edifice! he begs leave to inform them, and the Public, that the Temple will be again illuminated, from Six till Ten o'clock THIS, and every Evening this week, and he will deliver his too-much celebrated Lecture each night, beginning at Eight o'clock.

Admittance only One Shilling.

The Ladies are deſired to come very early, as Dr. Graham for ſeveral evenings paſt was very much hurt at ſeeing ſo great a number of reſpectable Ladies who could not be accommodated with ſeats.

Several of the rich ornamental articles which were bought at the ſale, the Nobility and Gentry who bought them have generouſly agreed to let them remain untouched this whole week, many other things Dr. Graham has hired of the brokers who bought them; and by the generous favour of the public at large, Dr. Graham was himſelf enabled to buy the great Electrical Temple of Health, the Celeſtial State Bed, the magnificent Electrical Apparatus, and a good deal of the Unique and ſupremely brilliant furniture of this magical—of this inchanting Elyſian Palace, where beauty and love, wit and pleaſure, hold their court every Evening, in chaſte and joyous aſſemblage!

A few copies ſtill remaining of Dr. Graham's Private Advice (ſealed up, price One Guinea) to thoſe Ladies and Gentlemen who wiſh to have children, or to become ſnowy pillars of health and beauty, ſtudded, as it were, with roſes, and ſtreaked with celeſtial blue, may now be had at only Half a Guinea; his other curious and eccentric works, containing full deſcriptions of his travels, diſcoveries improvements, principles, cures, electrical apparatus, &c. formerly 3s. 6d. now 1s. 9d. and Veſtina, the Roſy Goddeſs's warm Lecture! price 2s. 6d.

N. B. The ſale of this curious Lecture has been unprecedently rapid: it has run through no leſs than three large editions in one week, and the 4th Edition is now printing.

 Dr. Graham propoſes to ſet out next week, on his third grand tour through all Europe.

TEMPLE of HEALTH, Adelphi.

To their Excellencies the Foreign Ambaſſadors! to the Nobility, Gentry, and to perſons of Learning, and of Taſte, THIS EVENING, exactly at Eight o'clock,

THE CELESTIAL BRILLIANCY of the Medico-Electrical Apparatus in all the apartments of the Temple, will be exhibited

By Dr. GRAHAM himſelf,

Who will have the honour of explaining the true nature and effects of Electricity, Air, Muſic, and Magnetiſm, when applied to the Human Body.

In the introductory oration, the whole art of enjoying health and vigour of body and of mind, and of preſerving and exalting perſonal beauty and lovelineſs; or, in other words, of living with health, honour, and happineſs in this world, for at leaſt a hundred years, is pointed out, and warmly inculcated. Previous to the diſplay of the electrical fire, the Doctor will delicately touch upon the CELESTIAL BEDS which are ſoon to be opened in the Temple of Hymen, in Pall-mall, for the propagation of beings, rational, and far ſtronger and more beautiful in mental, as well as in bodily endowments, than the preſent puny, feeble, and nonſenſical race of Chriſtians—of probationary immortals, who crawl and fret, and cut one another's throats for nothing at all, on moſt parts of this terraqueous globe.

This Apparatus, which viſibly diſplays, as it were, the various faculties of the material ſoul of univerſal and eternal nature, is acknowledged by all who have ſeen it, to be by far the largeſt, moſt uſeful, and moſt magnificent that now is, or that ever was in the world. Admittance 5s.

Dr. Graham, on account of the very great increaſe of his practice in the cure of diſeaſes, has been under the neceſſity of diſcontinuing the exhibition of his Medico-Electrical Apparatus in the day-time. May 22. 1781

July 28 A S O N G 1781

Introductory to the CELESTIAL BED.

Sung by Mr. DOYLE, at Sadler's Wells, in the character of the Doctor's Porters.

I.

YE ſtrangers and natives, to our exhibition,
Air, magnets, and harmony, quickly repair;
Five ſhillings alone is the price of admiſſion
To our apparatus ſo brilliant and rare.
Come, come to the Temple,
And try but the ſample,
The Doctor himſelf has the honour to ſhew,
Come ſee,
Where electricity
Tickles ye all from the top to the toe.

II.

The art of enjoying health, ſpirit, and vigour,
A precious oration will fully diſplay;
You'll ſoon become wiſer, and taller, and bigger,
If you'll but believe all the Doctor can ſay.
Each laſs ſhall find honour,
And bliſs pour'd upon her,
And all by a means which his wiſdom can ſhew,
Come ſee,
Where electricity
Tickles ye all from the top to the toe.

III.

A bed that's celeſtial to bodies terreſtrial,
Will warmly inculcate it; wonderful uſe!
Bring children like giants, that ſet at defiance
The pigmies that nature alone can produce.
Your feelings are ſuch,
From its delicate touch,
With pleaſure and charms univerſal ye glow,
Come ſee,
Where electricity
Tickles ye all from the top to the toe.

IV.

Health, honour, and happineſs, all are the produce
Of beds ſo celeſtial it plainly appears,
They ſtrengthen your minds, as well as your bodies,
And make you exiſt for an hundred of years.
Then come to the Temple,
And try but the ſample,
The Doctor himſelf has the honour to ſhew;
Come ſee,
Where electricity
Tickles ye all from the top to the toe.

TEMPLE of HEALTH and HYMEN,
Aug 21 PALL-MALL. 1781

AT the earneſt deſire of many of the Nobility and Gentry, who were diſappointed of hearing the Lecture, by the croudedneſs of the Rooms the laſt Week of the Exhibition, the celebrated Lecture to Gentlemen alone, will be repeated THIS, and every EVENING THIS WEEK, exactly at Nine o'Clock.

The Nobility and Gentry are moſt reſpectfully informed, that the Temple will be opened again THIS EVENING, with Muſic and grand Illuminations, and that Dr. GRAHAM will deliver a Lecture on the Art of exalting and rendering permanent the joys of the Marriage Bed, producing a numerous, healthy, and beautiful offspring, and preſerving even to good old age, that round vigour, that full toned virility which ſpeaks ſo cordially, and ſo effectually home to the female heart.

The whole will be interſperſed with reflexions moral and philoſophical; and with precepts for the preſervation and exaltation of perſonal beauty and lovelineſs.

N. B. The greateſt and moſt magnificent Electrical Apparatus, that ever was ſeen in the world, is now completed, and the Hymeneal Temple fitted up with a degree of elegance and magnificence, far ſuperior to moſt Royal Palaces in the world.

Admittance at Night 5s. in the Day 2s. 6d.

When Dr. Graham introduced himſelf to the good folks of Norwich, with his uſual ceremonial of florid advertiſements, he was very early informed by the Mayor, that he muſt be ſilent, or he would be ſent to Lecture "to the ſpirits that were in priſon."

TEMPLE of HEALTH and HYMEN, PALL MALL, near the King's Palace.

IF there be one human being, rich or poor, male, female, or of the doubtful gender, in or near this great metropolis of the world, who has not had the good fortune, and the happineſs of hearing the celebrated Lecture, and of ſeeing the grand Celeſtial State Bed, the magnificent Electrical Apparatus, and the ſupremely brilliant and Unique Decorations of this magical edifice—of this inchanting Elyſian Palace! where wit and mirth, love and beauty—all that can delight the ſoul, and all that can raviſh the ſenſes, will hold their court, THIS, and EVERY EVENING next Week in chaſte and joyous aſſemblage! let them now come forth, or for ever afterwards let them blame themſelves, and bewail their irremediable misfortune.

In conſequence of the promiſes which Doctor GRAHAM and his ſervants were under the neceſſity of making to the very great multitude of Ladies and Gentlemen, who came to the door of the Temple for many Evenings paſt; but who could not poſſibly be admitted, on account of from Eight to Sixteen Hundred Ladies and Gentlemen being in the Great Apollo Chamber at the Lecture, and walking about the other apartments of this celeſtial paradiſe; he begs leave to inform them, and the Public, that the Temple will be again illuminated with wax, from Seven till Ten o'clock THIS, and every Evening next Week, and he will deliver his too-much celebrated Lecture each night, beginning at Eight o'clock.

Admittance now only One Shilling.

The Ladies are deſired to come very early, as Dr. Graham for ſeveral evenings paſt was very much hurt at ſeeing ſo great a number of reſpectable Ladies who could not be accommodated with ſeats.

A few copies ſtill remaining of Dr. Graham's Private Advice (ſealed up, price One Guinea) to thoſe Ladies and Gentlemen who wiſh to have children, or to become ſnowy pillars of health and beauty, ſtudded, as it were, with roſes, and ſtreaked with celeſtial blue, may now be had at only Half a Guinea; his other curious and eccentric works, containing full deſcriptions of his travels, diſcoveries, improvements, principles, cures, electrical apparatus, &c. formerly 3s. 6d. now 1s. 9d. and Veſtina, the Roſy Goddeſs's warm Lecture! price 2s. 6d.

N. B. The ſale of this curious Lecture has been unprecedently rapid: it has run through no leſs than three large editions in one week, and the 4th Edition is now printing.

Dr. Graham propoſes to ſet in a few days on his third grand tour through Europe; and he has the felicity of leaving England without owing a ſhilling to any perſon in the world.

N. B. A very large printed pamphlet, containing advices of the higheſt importance to the health, beauty, vigour, happineſs and ſerenity of the human ſpecies, and for the happy prolongation of human life, will be given gratis, to every perſon, as they enter the Great Apollo Chamber of the Temple, which pamphlet alone is worth double the money that is paid for admiſſion.

NOTWITHSTANDING Dr. Graham ſtill has, and always muſt have, from reaſon and analogy, the higheſt opinion of the ſafety efficacy, and importance of the Celeſtial Bed, which, with ſo much labour and expence he has had the honour of erecting, yet, finding that the majority of the world are ſtill prejudiced againſt it and the Temple of Hymen, he has determined no longer to ſolicit the attention of the public to that grand diſcovery, and moſt laudable in[illegible] eſpecially having lately had the ſupreme ha[illegible] of bringing to perfection a medicine for the recovery of health and the prolongation of life, which has employed his attention, and drained his purſe of many thouſand pounds, in the courſe of the inteneſt ſtudy, and the moſt expenſive experiments and proceſſes during a period of twelve years.

He deſires, therefore, moſt reſpectfully to give this public notice, that after this preſent week, the Temple of Health and Hymen, will be no more ſhewn to the public by day or by night; and that he will not on any account, after next Saturday night, deliver his Lecture on the propagation of the Human Species, and on the pleaſures of the Marriage Bed, or any ſimilar ſubject; but, that to gratify the curioſity of thoſe Gentlemen who have not yet heard that moſt curious and moſt celebrated oration, Dr. Graham will deliver it This Evening, for the very laſt time—ſublime—melting muſic, on new principles, which will inviſibly breath forth, and the Temple diſplayed in full glory, with illuminations ſupremely brilliant!

 The Temple will be opened as an Elyſian Promenade for Ladies and Gentlemen, at ſeven o'clock on thoſe three evenings, and the Lecture for Gentlemen will begin preciſely at eight.—Admittance to Ladies Half-a-Crown, to Gentlemen Five Shillings.

Thoſe Gentlemen who do do not chuſe to ſtay the Lecture, will have a Half Crown returned.

N. B. The Roſy Herald of Health, of the moſt gigantic ſtature that ever was ſeen in England, being between ſeven and eight feet high, and a Dwarf Lady will exhibit ſtriking ſpecimens, the former of the ſtrength and ſtature of that race of beings which would ſpring from the Celeſtial Bed, and the latter of the preſent puny degeneracy of mankind, which a due attention to the precepts inculcated in that extraordinary Lecture, would effectually improve.

The curious are requeſted to take notice, that this Temple, which is fitted up in a ſtile of ſplendor and elegance far ſuperior to the moſt royal palaces in the world, and the diſplay of the Electrical Apparatus, which is ſo many hundred degrees more uſeful and more magnificent than any other that ever was erected, may be viewed every day this week, at only One Shilling each perſon, after which the exhibition will be finally cloſed.

THE TEMPLE of HEALTH, in the center of the Royal Terrace, Adelphi, is now opened for the reception of patients, and for the inſpection of the the public, every day from ſix in the morning, till eight at night. The medico-electrical apparatus therein fitted up, is allowed by every body to be, by very far, not only the largeſt and moſt curious, but alſo the moſt ſtupendous, moſt uſeful, and moſt magnificent that now is, or that ever was in the world. It occupies ten rooms, and has coſt many thouſand pounds. Nature and art,—univerſal nature, the liberal, and the fine arts, have been courted and exerted in the execution of this Great Work! Every nerve of genius and of ſtudy have been ſtrained, and the four quarters of the globe ranſacked to enrich and embelliſh it.

As the apparatus in all the ten rooms is not yet finiſhed, admittance to view it, is now only half a crown; but after the firſt day of October next, if it be exhibited at all, each admiſſion ticket will be half a guinea. A book containing a full, though inadequate deſcription of the apparatus, &c. &c. may be had of the porters, price 1s.

 As the apparatus is ſo ſupremely curious, large, and complex; and as important additions are daily making to it, the Nobility and Gentry, who are fond of philoſophy, or of medical ſcience, are furniſhed with a ticket, price only one guinea, which entitles them to inſpect the apparatus, &c. as often as they pleaſe for one whole year.

Dr. GRAHAM's new and improved methods of curing diſeaſes, conſiſt in regimen, in herbs, ſimple medicines, and ætherial eſſences, rendered more ſalutary and active by means of the moſt powerful agents in nature, viz. electricity, vivifying air, medical muſic, and magnetiſm; or in other words, by conveying to thoſe at the altar, or on the medico-electrical throne, without ſhock, or any kind of uneaſineſs, into the general ſyſtem, to the ſeat of the diſeaſe, or only to parts particularly affected, the pure, active, genial, balmy, bracing, and reſtorative effluvia of medicines; animal, mineral, or vegetable, ſimply, or combined with the celeſtial fire, muſical vibrations, vivifying air, magnetic effluvium, or with any of the great primary elementary principles or influences, which are the univerſal pabulum, or animated ſoul of the univerſe! The numbers of people who daily by theſe means, under God, are cured of the moſt dangerous and moſt confirmed diſeaſes, even after they had been diſmiſſed as incurable from Hoſpitals, and given over by the moſt celebrated phyſicians who ſtand in the regular trammels, are truly aſtoniſhing.

To remove moſt effectually, every unfavourable impreſſion which the jealous or envious inſinuations of the faculty or their friends, alarmed at Dr. Graham's unprecedented fame and ſucceſs, may have created in the minds of thoſe who are unacquainted with Dr. G. and his valuable diſcoveries and improvements; and to demonſtrate to the world at large, the infinite ſuperiority of his peculiar modes of treating diſeaſes, he will continue till the firſt of next January (1781) to attend at their own home, patients in ſevere acute diſeaſes, when given over for death by any other, even by the moſt ſkilful apothecary, ſurgeon, or phyſician, without any expence whatever, if his endeavours to preſerve life, under God, prove ineffectual. When reſtored to health, his gratuity ſhall, as uſual, be regulated by the generoſity or circumſtances of the patient. No ordinary or trifling caſe will be attended to; the above is confined to thoſe—and to thoſe alone, who are thought to be near death in ſevere acute diſeaſes. Seldom, very ſeldom a day paſſes, but he has the bleſſedneſs of eaſing excruciating pain, and of ſnatching from the grave one or more ſick perſons, even when ſtruggling in the agonies of death, and even after they have been abandoned by the moſt celebrated phyſicians.

Dr. Graham's medical advice and information to the friends of perſons apparently at the point of death, and to all thoſe whoſe diſorders have reſiſted the ordinary, trifling, or conſtitution-deſtroying methods of cure, is now compriſed in four large folio pages, and may be had, Gratis, at the Temple of Health, in the Adelphi.

Æquè pauperibus prodeſt, locupletibus æquè,
Æquè neglectum pueris ſenibuſque nocebit.

HOR.

This day is publiſhed, a new edition, being the ſixth, of the preſent ſtate of Medical practice exhibited, with a full account of Dr. Graham's diſcoveries, improvements, and methods of treating diſeaſes. To this edition, which conſiſts of 3,500 copies, is added a treatiſe on medical muſic, a diſſertation on the uſes and abuſes of the waters, and medical diſcipline or gauntlet, of Bath, Aix la Chapelle, the German Spa, &c. a complete deſcription too is given of Dr. Graham's medico-electrical apparatus, &c. and to the whole are added, above an hundred and ten recent and very remarkable cures in moſt kinds of diſeaſes and lameneſſes, wrought by Dr. Graham's peculiar methods, many of which he lately had the high honour of performing immediately under the eye, and of having atteſted by the hand-writing of her Grace the Ducheſs of Devonſhire, the Right Hon. Lady Spencer, the Right Hon. Lady Clermont, his moſt Serene Highneſs Frederick Prince of Heſſe Caſſel, Earl Spencer, and many others of the firſt Nobility in Europe, who for the encouragement of the afflicted, and general benefit of mankind, were pleaſed, voluntarily and unſolicited, to honour Dr. Graham with the above mentioned certificate. Printed for Almon, Piccadilly; Becket, Adelphi; and Richardſon and Urquhart, Royal Exchange; price only 3s. 6d. though it contains as much matter (reading) as a modern guinea quarto.

TTERS, &c. are received.

all-ſtreet; J. PRIDDEN, Bookſeller, No 100, near th ew Bond-ſtreet.—Advertiſements of a moderate length

1780 18 June

THE Medical Electrical Apparatus in the TEMPLE of HEALTH, which is by far the largeſt, and moſt magnificent in the world, may be inſpected, as uſual, every day from ten till ſix o'clock; and every Tueſday, Thurſday, and Saturday evening, preciſely at eight o'clock, it is exhibited with celeſtial brilliancy, Doctor Graham having the honour to diſplay it, pointing out at the ſame time the good and bad effects of that tremendous element when applied to the human body.

Royal Terrace, Adelphi, Aug. 28.

1780

As it is reaſonably to be feared, the tumults of an Augnſt Aſſembly, will ſo entirely engroſs the time and thoughts of the new Member for Stafford, it may naturally be aſked, how the place of the Theatrical Luminary we loſe in him, is to be ſupplied? In the abilities of the learned, and modeſt Doctor Graham lies our relief. He declares, not without timerity, but openly and boldly, that amongſt the many uſeful and pleaſant effects which he has diſcovered in electricity, he has hit upon that happy one (which muſt diffuſe latent ingenuity) of being able to expel, in an operation of five minutes, the moſt impenetrable dulneſs; and to evince that his powers are equal to the taſk he undertakes, he will venture (as the vulgar have it) "to take the Bull by the horns," offering to make his firſt experiment in public ſucceſſively on the Court of Aldermen, after their having eaten a hearty Guildhall dinner, at this day's annual feſtival.

1780

TEMPLE of HYMEN, Pall-mall.

January 15, 1782.

THE Public are reſpectfully informed, that Dr. GRAHAM is now arrived in town from Bath, and that this place will be opened again To-morrow evening, being Wedneſday the 16th, and the following evening, Thurſday the 17th inſtant, with ſupremely brilliant illuminations; and that Dr. Graham, (by particular deſire) will deliver his celebrated Lecture on the propagation of the human ſpecies; and on the arts of exalting and rendering permanent the joys of the marriage-bed, preſerving vigour and full-toned virility even to good old age.

After the Lecture, the Celeſtial Bed will blazon with the plenitude of the genial celeſtial fire, and the whole Temple will be exhibited in a ſtile of elegance, ſplendor, and magnificence, far ſuperior to any royal palace in Europe. Admittance only Half a Crown.

1782

TEMPLE OF HEALTH, PALL-MALL.

AT the earneſt and repeated Requeſt of a great number of Foreigners of diſtinction, and of the firſt Perſons of Faſhion of Great Britain and Ireland, Dr. GRAHAM begs leave to acquaint the Nobility and Gentry of both ſexes, next THIS preſent EVENING, and every EVENING this WEEK, the Temple will be opened for their reception as a Promenade only. The whole will be moſt ſuperbly illuminated with wax, and the Medico-Electrical Apparatus, which is infinitely larger, and more magnificent than any other that ever was erected in the world, will be diſplayed in all the celeſtial brilliancy of the Electrical Fire.

It is needleſs to ſay any thing with reſpect to the pre-eminence which theſe apartments have, in point of richneſs, elegance, and brilliancy, over every other ſuite of public rooms in Europe; as their ſuperiority is unanimouſly allowed by upwards of 30,000 perſons of taſte and faſhion, who have already viewed them, the greateſt number of whom have viſited the principal courts in Europe, and many have given a decided opinion in favor of the Temple of Health.

The doors will be opened preciſely at Eight o'Clock.

Admittance only Half-a-Crown.

N. B. On account of the new additions and decorations, which are now compleated, the Temple has been ſhut up from all public inſpection, for upwards of three weeks; and as it was found to interfere too much with Dr. Graham's practice as a Phyſician, it will be no more exhibited in the day-time. The Doctor gives advice, as uſual, in all thoſe deep-rooted and obſtinate diſeaſes which have reſiſted the ordinary means, or what is called the regular practice, every evening, from ſeven till eleven o'clock, to trades-people, and to all others, who apply within thoſe hours, gratis; and he is at home, to be conſulted by the Nobility and Gentry, daily, from eleven in the morning till three in the afternoon.

The Doctor has ſpared no pains or expence whatever to render the Temple not only the richeſt, but by far more elegant (in its preſent improved ſtate) than any Royal Palace in the world.

The Doctor moſt reſpectfully acquaints the Nobility and Gentry, that he cannot, on any account, admit them after Twelve o'clock on Saturday Evenings, as he may incur the enſure of the law, lately paſſed for preventing Promenades on Sundays

1782

IN conſequence of the promiſes which Dr. GRAHAM and his Servants were under the neceſſity of making to many Thouſand Ladies and Gentlemen, who came to the Door of the TEMPLE of HEALTH and of HYMEN, in Pall-Mall, the four laſt Evenings of laſt Week, but who could not poſſibly be admitted on Account of from Eight to Sixteen Hundred Ladies and Gentlemen being in the Great Apollo Chamber at the Lecture, and walking about the other Apartments of this magical Edifice;—He begs leave to inform the Public, that the Temple will be again illuminated, from Six till Ten o'clock THIS and every other Night this Week, (Chriſtmas Day excepted) and he will deliver his too much celebrated Lecture each Night, beginning at Eight o'clock.—Admittance only ONE SHILLING.

N. B. A few copies ſtill remaining of Dr. Graham's Private Advice, ſealed up, price 1l. 1s. to thoſe Ladies and Gentlemen who wiſh to have children, or to become ſnowy pillars of health and beauty, ſtudded as it were with roſes, and ſtreaked with celeſtial blue, may NOW be had at only 10s. 6d. His other curious and eccentric works, containing full deſcriptions of his travels, diſcoveries, improvements, electrical apparatus, &c. &c. formerly 3s. 6d. now 1s. 9d. and Veſtina, the roſy Goddeſs's warm Lecture, price 2s. 6d.

†††† The ſale of this curious Lecture has been unprecedently rapid: it has run through no leſs than three large Editions in one Week.

1782.

A correſpondent remarks, that ſince the High Prieſteſs has commenced her lecture, the Temple of Health has become as favorite and faſhionable a place of reſort for Ladies, as it formerly was for Gentlemen.——Thoſe of the niceſt delicacy are to be ſeen every evening attending to the Roſy Goddeſs, whoſe precepts are ſo rational, whoſe language is ſo chaſte, and whoſe delivery is ſo admirable, that the temporary abſence of the Doctor himſelf ſeems to be a matter but little regretted by thoſe who can be delighted with the warm effuſions of a female ſoul!

In order that the Inſtallation at Dublin may be as magnificent as poſſible, Dr. Graham, it ſeems, is gone to exhibit on the occaſion, and to give out ſuch private advice to the Knights, as may tend to a propagation of the illuſtrious Order of St. Patrick!

1783

TEMPLE of HEALTH and HYMEN, PALL MALL, near the King's Palace.

Now or Never! Ladies and Gentlemen!

AT the ardent requeſt of very many Ladies, and of many Officers of the Navy, Army, and others, juſt returned from abroad, the Temple will again be ſuperbly illuminated with wax, from Seven till Ten o'clock THIS and EVERY EVENING next week; and each night at Eight o'clock, Doctor GRAHAM will deliver his celebrated Lecture, with many new ſtrokes, on the Propagation of the Human Species: on the Arts of exalting and tendering permanent the Joys of the Marriage Bed; of preſerving and heightening Perſonal Beauty and Lovelineſs; and of improving and detaining, even to a good old age, that delicacy and attention of ſentiment and behaviour, and that round perſonal vigour, that deep—full—long-toned juvenile virility, which ſpeak ſo cordially, and ſo effectually home to the female heart, conciliating its favour and friendſhip, and rivetting its intenſeſt affections.

The Ladies are deſired to come very early, as Dr. Graham for ſeveral evenings paſt was very much hurt to ſee ſo great a number of reſpectable Ladies who could not be accommodated with ſeats.

Admittance only One Shilling.

N. B. A very large printed pamphlet, containing advices of the higheſt importance to health, beauty, vigour, happineſs and ſerenity of the human ſpecies, and for the happy prolongation of human life, will be given gratis, to every perſon, as they enter the Great Apollo Chamber of the Temple, which pamphlet alone is worth double the money that is paid for admiſſion.

A few copies ſtill remaining on hand of Dr. Graham's Private Advice (ſealed up, price One Guinea) to thoſe Ladies and Gentlemen who wiſh to have children, or to become ſnowy pillars of health and beauty, ſtudded, as it were, with roſes, and ſtreaked with celeſtial blue, may now be had at only Half a Guinea; his other curious and eccentric works, containing full deſcriptions of his travels, diſcoveries, improvements, principles, cures, electrical apparatus, &c. formerly 3s. 6d. now 1s. 9d. and Veſtina, the Roſy Goddeſs's warm Lecture! price 2s. 6d.

Dr. Graham propoſes ſetting out very ſoon on his third grand tour through Europe; and he has the felicity of leaving England without owing a ſhilling to any perſon in the world, having paid all his creditors twenty ſhillings in every pound, and many of them forty, and even fifty ſhillings for every pound, which in reaſon and juſtice was due to them.

1783

On Wedneſday laſt Dr. James Graham was committed to the Tolbooth of Edinburgh by warrant of the Magiſtrates, on the application of the Procurator Fiſcal, in order to take his trial for ſome late injurious publications in that city.

1783

The immediate cauſe of Dr. Graham's commitment to the Tolbooth of Edinburgh was his having inſerted in news-papers, and diſtributed, pretended letters from Dr. Hope and other diſtinguiſhed phyſicians, approving of and recommending his noſtrums. He might have gone on with his quackery unmoleſted, if it had not been for theſe fallacies, by which the magiſtrates apprehended eſſential injury might have been done to the health of the people in the credit which they would have given to recommendations ſo reſpectable. But the police of Edinburgh is unexceptionably the beſt regulated of any in the three kingdoms, which is beſt demonſtrated by the effects.

1783

Laſt Friday the Magiſtrates of Edinburgh gave judgement in one of the actions, at the inſtance of the Procurator Fiſcal, againſt Dr. James Graham, and found him guilty of cauſing to be printed and publiſhed, a ſcandalous and malicious libel againſt the Lord Provoſt and Magiſtrates of that city, in their character of Magiſtrates, and fined him in 20l. ſterling, and granted a warrant to impriſon him till payment; in conſequence of which he was at night committed to priſon; but was ſoon after releaſed on paying the fine.

1783

Tueſday laſt Dr. James Graham was liberated from the Tolbooth of Edinburgh, upon finding bail for 300 marks, by order of the Lords of Seſſion. He is to ſtand trial before the Magiſtrates for the ſeveral offences of which he is accuſed.

1783

CELESTIAL CURTAIN-LECTURE!

IN PANTON-STREET, HAY-MARKET.

DR. GRAHAM, To-morrow, being Tuesday Evening the 28th Inst. precisely at Seven o'clock, will deliver an intirely new Lecture, or oration on subjects infinitely important!—addressed particularly,—To Catherine! the magnanimous and the great; Empress of all the Russias! the fostering mother of the most extensive empire in the world!—to Joseph! the wise and the good! the immortal Emperor of Germany!—to George the 3d King of Great Britain! —to his most Christian Majesty! Lewis the 16th King of France!—to his Holiness the Pope of Rome!—to their Majesties the Kings of Spain!—of Sweden!—of Denmark! —of Russia!—and to all, and singular, the other Emperors, Kings, Queens, Potentates and Princes, ecclesiatical and civil,—to the rulers, governors, intendants, officers, and magistrates civil and military; of all the commonwealths, states, provinces, cities, towns, districts, hamlets, and wards; to the masters and mistresses of private families;—and to each individual of the human species, whether Christian, Jew, Turk, heathen or idolater, that now lives, or that shall hereafter live in Europe, Asia, Africa, or America! or any other continent, island, or habitation floating on water, or in air, that now is, or that may hereafter appear, or be discovered on this terraqueous globe, till the final consummation, absorption, and assimilation of all beings and things, into the boundless and eternal principle or ocean of transcendently glorious and altogether incomprehensible light, life, omniscience, omnipotence, love and goodness!!!—or into that other principle or abyss of darkness, evil, malevolence, and misery; from whence they all originally sprung, and into which they shall finally return.

N. B. This most curious and most necessary Curtain Lecture, will be delivered gratis, and repeated the four following evenings, precisely at Seven o'clock; one shilling only will be required of each Lady and Gentleman, towards defraying the expences necessarily attending it. The Ladies need not be fraid of this Lecture, for here, affectation herself will not be able to fource a blush.

April 27 1786.

The admission money to see Dr. Graham buried chin deep in the Earth, is rather refining on the land tax!

1786

THIS EVENING (being GOOD FRIDAY) and To-Morrow Evening, the Earth-Bathing Exhibition, and Coffin scene and Lecture, which have been already so much crouded and applauded, will be continued as usual.

"The Grave is mine House, and the House appointed for all Living."——JOB.

A PYTHAGOREAN Philosopher, formerly a most regularly-bred, and very celebrated Physician, but now a Studier, an ardent Lover, and an humble follower of great, venerable, simple Nature, and of her eternal and most glorious Original! having discovered, and proved beyond all doubt, in a long and very extensive course of actual practice, and by experience in his own person, that the very ancient, but now little known, and less followed practice of Earth Bathing, is the most perfectly safe, and most infallibly certain means of radically curing all scurvies, leprosies, scrophulas, &c. He will THIS DAY, being Good Friday, and To-morrow Evening, descend, quite naked, up to his chin into a great body of fresh, icy, cold earth, brought from the top of Hampstead-hill, and in that situation to give the public a very curious and most important lecture on the nature and medicinal qualities of the earth, and on the very salutary effects produced on living human bodies, by being fully and frequently immersed in that mighty and ever pregnant preserver of life, and of all the vital, celestial, and terrestial fluxes and influences! To confirm the truth of these doctrines, and to corroborate the facts advanced, the beautifully, blooming, and ever young goddess, Terrina herself! will, in all the mild majesty of youth and innocence, preside at the lecture, elevated on her proper throne.

This ceremony, or essential service to the public health, which all must allow to be the most extraordinary that ever was solemnized since the creation of the world, and which, if properly and universally practised, would make the whole medical tribe as unnecessary, and as little known, as are now the ancient druids, minstrels, &c. will be performed in Panton-street, No. 6, very near the middle of the Hay-market; and to prevent too great a croud, noise, and confusion, and to defray the very great expences attending it, the admission will be Half a Crown into the Pit, and into the Gallery One Shilling. The doors will be open at Seven o'clock. The Philosopher will be interred at Half past Seven.

The lecture begin precisely at Eight; and at Nine the trumpet will sound, and it is hoped a glorious and happy resurrection will take place.

April 14. 1786 Haymarket

Dr. Graham and Mr. Dundas, alias White Harry, are two of the moſt modeſt Scotchmen that ever navigated the Tweed. The Doctor keeps in mind the exhortation of Macbeth of

"Let the earth hide thee!"

And buries himſelf accordingly to the chin. In this the parallel is ſtrong, as like Harry, he is not aſhamed of ſhewing his face!

April 4. 1786.

Dr. GRAHAM's New Lecture begins This Evening, preciſely at Seven o'Clock, in his Great Room, in Panton-ſtreet, Hay-market.

DR. GRAHAM deſires moſt reſpectfully to inform the public, that his entirely new, moſt curious, moſt intereſting, and moſt uſeful Lecture, comprehending a complete Syſtem of the univerſal and moſt potent paſſion! which has now been received 21 times by learned, polite, and very numerous audiences, with the moſt frequent and moſt cordial buriſts of ſatisfaction and applauſe, will be repeated this, and every evening this week, in his Great Room in Panton-ſtreet, ſix doors from the Hay-market, beginning preciſely at Seven o'Clock. Admiſſion only One ſingle Shilling, which the Doctor conſiders as bearing the ſame proportion, as ſelling a peck loaf of the beſt bread for a penny.

A new edition, with large additions, of the curious Abſtract, or Syllabus of the Lecture, may be had at the Bar of the room, price only 3d. by thoſe gentlemen who do him the honour of aſſiſting at this ſublime, inſtructive, moſt philoſophical, and it may be ſaid, Gratis Banquet.

Feb 6. 1786.

THIS EVENING, and every Evening This Week, the Earth-Bathing Exhibition, and Coffin Scene and Lecture which have been already so much applauded, by the Nobility and Gentry, will be continued as usual, at No. 6, Panton-street, Hay-market.

"The Grave is mine House, and the House appointed for all Living."——JOB.

A PYTHAGOREAN Philosopher, formerly a most regularly-bred, and very celebrated Physician, but now a Studier, an ardent Lover, and an humble follower of great, venerable, simple Nature, and of her eternal and most glorious Original! having discovered, and proved beyond all doubt, in a long and very extensive course of actual practice, and by experience in his own person, that the very ancient, but now little known, and less followed practice of Earth Bathing, is the most perfectly safe, and most infallibly certain means of radically curing all scurvies, leprosies, scrophulas, and even the most internal as well as external corruptions, decays, sores, swellings, cancerous, and other ulcers and foulnesses; and of all rheumatic, dropsical, consumptive, nervous, and all spasmodic diseases, however complicated, rooted, or obstinate; and moreover, for the extreme prolongation of human life, or rather for the renewal of youth and beauty;—and being animated by the great example of that wise and holy Philosopher, Job! who, by the indisputable testimony of Holy Writ, was perfectly and lastingly cured of the most dreadful and universal leprosy, boils, and blotches, by Earth-Bathing, or, as it was then called, sitting in dust and ashes; he proposes This and Every Evening this Week, to descend, quite naked, up to his chin into a great body of fresh, icy, cold earth, brought from the top of Hampstead-hill, and in that situation to give the Public a very curious and most important lecture on the nature and medicinal qualities of the earth, and on the very salutary effects produced on living human bodies, by being fully and frequently immersed in that mighty and ever pregnant reservoir of life, and of all the vital, celestial, and terrestrial influxes and influences!

To confirm the truth of these doctrines, and to corroborate the facts advanced, the beautifully blooming, and ever young goddess, Terrina herself! will, in all the mild majesty of youth and innocence, appear on her proper throne towards the close of the Lecture.

This ceremony, or essential service to the Public health which all must allow to be the most extraordinary that ever was solemnized since the creation of the world, and which, if properly and universally practised, would make the whole medical tribe as unnecessary, and as little known, as are now the ancient druids, minstrels, &c. will be performed in Panton-street, No. 6, very near the middle of the Hay-market; and to prevent too great a croud, noise, and confusion, and to defray the very great expences attending it, the admission will be Half a Crown into the Pit, and into the Gallery One Shilling.

The doors will be open at Seven o'clock. The Philosopher will be interred at Half past Seven. The Lecture begin precisely at Eight; and at Nine the Trumpet will sound, and it is hoped a glorious and happy resurrection will take place.

N. B. To evince the truth of the above, This Day, being Tuesday, and every Day this week, from Eleven till Four o'clock, several Ladies and Gentlemen will sit naked covered up in the Earth, for the Cure of Diseases which they find cannot be cured by any other means, and some persons already cured by this Earth-Bathing, will attend at the new Earth-Bath, No. 6, Panton-street, Hay-market. Admission only ONE SHILLING.

The ſtone coffin buſineſs that is expected to come forward in the Houſe of Lords, it is ſuſpected, firſt furniſhed Dr. Graham with the idea of burying himſelf by way of obtaining vigor!

1786

Dr. Graham is now flouriſhing at Newcaſtle, where his proſpectus is, as uſual, a moſt inflated piece of nonſenſe!

1786

Dr. Graham's New Lecture on LOVE and PROPAGATION.
This Day was Publiſhed, Price Six-pence.
Embelliſhed with the following curious copper-plates, viz.
1. The ESCAPE prevented. 2. The ROMP. 3. The HEDGE AMOUR. And 4. An Hieroglyphical Advertiſement from a Pregnant Lady.
Number XLI. of
THE RAMBLER's MAGAZINE, for February, 1786. This Number contains Dr. Graham's new Lecture on Love, Luſt, and Propagation—The Romp—Virtue in Danger—The Hedge Amour—An Elegiac Letter on the Loſs of Virginity—The Amorous Rencontre—Lothario inſtructed by Dr. Graham—Adventures of a Lunar Lover—Amorous Noveliſt—Double Deception—A Provoking Provocative—Adventures of a Bedſtead—A Maid of Honour, a married Woman and a W——e—Sentence of Divorce pronounced—Life of Mrs. Bellamy—The Lady's Diſaſter—The Trial of the Rev. Mr. Altham for Adultery, Defamation and Obſcenity—Adventures of a Welch Girl—The Prolific Wife—Amuſements of Great Men—An Hieroglyphical Advertiſement—The Heireſs, a Comedy—Silenus and Cupid, a Song, by the late Alexander Stevens—The Louſiad—With upwards of 40 equally Warm and high ſeaſoned Articles.
London: printed for R. Randall, No. 45 Shoe-lane, Fleet-ſtreet, where may be had the 3 Volumes complete.

1786

Dr. Graham is now at Bath, in the purſuit of a collateral profeſſion to his former one. He has relinquiſhed the cure of bodies, for that of ſouls, and is actually at this time one of the moſt zealous and admired of the ſtrait-haired fraternity.

1789

Dr. GRAHAM, from EDINBURGH,

(Passing through London for Bath)

Proposes to Lecture Every Evening This Week, beginning THIS EVENING, being Monday, the 8th of November, 1790, and closing on Saturday Evening, November 13,

In the Great Room, in Hart-street, Govent Garden, the second door from the King's entrance into the Theatre,

ON the most Natural and most certain Means of preserving perfect and uninterrupted bodily health and strength, and the clearest and most delightful mental sunshine and serenity, till the very longest possible period of our mortal existence.

In this very curious and important Eccentrically-Concentric, Medical, Philosophical, and Political Lecture, will be condensed and exhibited a most simple, reasonable, and complete System of Health, Long Life, and Happiness, in which Dr. GRAHAM will endeavour to lead his audience gently and affectionately by the hand, along the sweet, simple, and obvious paths of great, venerable, ever constant, ever young, and ever beautiful Nature! and of consequent temporal happiness, up to that everlasting felicity, which we all hope finally to obtain.

To begin at Half past Six o'Clock. Admission Two Shillings.

 The Room is well aired, commodiously fitted up, and will be illuminated with wax candles.

☞ Gentlemen who are very curious are requested to come early.

1790.

At Edinburgh, the celebrated Dr. Graham.

1794.

DR. GRAHAM.

For the Table Book.

In the year 1782, that extraordinary empiric of modern times, Dr. Graham, appeared in London. He was a graduate of Edinburgh, wrote in a bombastic style, and possessed a great fluency of elocution. He opened a mansion in Pall Mall, called "The Temple of Health;" the front was ornamented with an enormous gilt sun, a statue of Hygeia, and other attractive emblems. The rooms were superbly furnished, and the walls decorated with mirrors, so as to confer on the place an effect like that of an enchanted palace. Here he delivered "Lectures on Health, &c." at the extravagant rate of two guineas each. As a further attraction, he entertained a female of beautiful figure, whom he called the "goddess of health." He hired two men of extraordinary stature, provided with enormous cocked hats and showy liveries, to distribute bills from house to house about town.

These unusual means to excite curiosity were successful; but his two guinea auditors were soon exhausted; he then dropped to one guinea; afterwards to half a guinea; then to five shillings; and, subsequently, as he said, "for the benefit of all," to two shillings and sixpence. When he could not "draw" at that price, he finally exhibited the "Temple of Health" at one shilling a head to daily crowds for several months.

Among the furniture of Dr. Graham's temple was a celestial bed, which he pretended wrought miraculous effects on those who reposed on it: he demanded for its use during one night one hundred pounds; and such is the folly of wealth, that several personages of high rank acceded to his terms. He also pretended to have discovered "The Elixir of Life," by taking of which a person might live as long as he pleased. When this was worn out, he recommended "earth bathing," and sanctioned it by his own practice. During one hour every day, he admitted spectators to view him and the goddess of health immersed naked in the ground to their chins. The doctor's head was dressed and powdered, and the goddess's was arranged in the highest fashion of the times. He carried this exhibition to every provincial town wherein he could obtain permission of the magistrates. The goddess nearly fell a victim to the practice, and the doctor, in spite of his enormous charges and his "Elixir of life," died in poor circumstances at the age of fifty-two.

Dr. Graham's brother married the celebrated Mrs. Macaulay, the historian, and Dr. Arnold, of Leicester, the respectable author of an able treatise on insanity, married his sister. It is generally understood that the lady who performed the singular part of the "Goddess of Health" was Emma, afterwards the wife of sir William Hamilton, and the personal favourite of the celebrated lord Nelson. She died in misery—

> Deserted in her utmost need
> By those her former bounty fed.

SAM SAM'S SON.

Sept. 1, 1827.